High collar hood makes carrying weapons easy as it does not fall flat on the shoulders. Front drawcord allows for adjusting the girth to the shape of user's face, providing optimal protection, even in adverse weather conditions. Horizontal depth regulation provides good fit at the back of the hood, and a special profile allows for exposing ears.

FLEX® hood firmly holds on the head. Without limiting the range of sight it makes orientation in the field easier. Independent peak protects the eyes from rain and wind. When necessary the hood may be detached from the jacket.

Looper is an innovative solution designed to fasten the internal insulating layer to the outer layer protecting from cold and rain. The system of fastening loops allows the layers of clothing for independent movement. It also ensures greater comfort of moving in difficult terrain.

By replacing a traditional zip with the Looper system we have achieved significant improvement of thermal features of the set. The airbag from naturally heated air between the layers serves as an additional insulating layer. The Looper system has been designed to improve the user's comfort in difficult terrain and low temperatures.

Warmth without additional weight and volume - this has been the motto of Thinsulate™ insulation for more than 30 years. The use of very fine fibres allows for binding larger amount of air particles. Lightweight and thin insulation provides thermal comfort, without limiting the comfort of use.

Clothes designed for difficult weather and terrain conditions are fitted with polyurethane membranes, in most cases implementing additional taped seams.

After adding waterproof zips we can guarantee waterproof and wind proof properties while maintaining the highest rate of breathability. Because of the nature of use we pay attention to make the layers of the set as silent as possible.

The system provides maintaining appropriate micro climate at a very high level. Now, thanks to ZEPHYR® system not only do you have efficient ventilation at your disposal, but also you may adjust its intensity to your current needs. The driving force of ZEPHYR® ventilation is the user's movement.

Regulated ventilation slits are placed in such a way, that with every move air is sucked into areas which are most prone to sweating. In case of jackets, air slits are situated on the sides. The system is complemented with regulated outlet openings, fitted on the back of the sleeves. Trousers are fitted with ventilation slits on inner thighs. While walking, the slits act as inlet and outlet of airflow.

DEFENDER WITH TAGART

You probably have never thought how Tagart brand and Land Rover are related to each other. It is a common passion for terrain activity and wild nature. For this very reason Tagart brand was pleased to take part in the Polish premiere of the most awaited cars of the 2019 - the premiere of the latest Land Rover Defender.

Defender - a legendary icon of the car industry. The archetype of an off-road vehicle. It has proved its abilities throughout many years, having been tested in the most difficult conditions, most uncomfortable situations that you can ever imagine. It has been the hero of many adventures, a companion for explorers and discoverers - all the places where the jungle, desert sands, snowy slopes become the background. It is also an inseparable element of the countryside dwellings. The vehicle is considered to be the British national treasure in terms of style and driving capabilities. We had to wait for 70 years to witness the introduction of the new model. And suddenly we end up at the crossroads.

Will the new Defender bear the burden? If you are a traditionalist, you may sigh in relief. It is characterised by the features which you already appreciate in its predecessor, at the same time bring a breath of fresh air. What is most important - it meets all of the restrictive ecologic norms, the driving is by far better and meets the expectations of the modern world. Described as "unmatched" and "unstoppable".

Surely the car has ceased to be a crude off-roader and has become similar to big and comfortable SUVs. It is apparent both in the looks of the interior and exterior of the vehicle. Many hi-tech solutions and precious materials have been implemented, also the body has been given a new shape. No wonder though, the expectations of Land Rover customers have been changing for many years.

The mechanics of the car has been given a complete overhaul. First of all the bodywork is no longer mounted on the frame, and the suspension is free from rigid bridges. We may find a pneumatic suspension with a regulated gap (max 291 mm) and a variety of electronic assist systems which will help to traverse through the most difficult terrain. Moreover, the new Defender has been equipped with a reducer, mechanical lock of the central and rear differential. The wading depth is an impressive 900 mm. The angle of approach and departure are respectively 38 and 40 degrees. The parameters of the vehicle are a feat to respect.

Nick Rogers, Executive Director - Product Engineering, Jaguar Land Rover said: "The new Defender is the most functional in off-road terrain Land Rover in history." Is it true? We are yet to see. Defender is a car which we will easily take for an off-road drive or hunting, then in the evening we may pull up at a restaurant or a theatre without the need for changing the car. The first Defenders will set off for the roads and roadless wilderness in the second quarter of 2020.

CARAIBES

Hi! My name is Marcin Bobola. My friends joke about me that I was born with a fishing rod in one hand and a shotgun in the other. There might be something to it as I have been fishing for as long as I can remember. I have been hunting for more than 10 years. Another passion of mine is travelling to various corners of the world. Whenever I set off for a journey I put a fishing rod into my backpack and when I come across a suitable spot I try to catch interesting fish which live in the given area of the world.

Last year I together with my friends decided to hunt for the gigantic tarpon which dwell in the Caribbean Sea waters. Our adventure began in Panama on San Blas archipelago, which is comprised of about 370 wonderful islands which belong to Kuna Yala natives. We stayed on a tiny, football-pitch size island Naranjo Chico which is owned by the family of our guide Tony. Sailing among paradise deserted islands, we were fishing at dawn, dusk and dark to avoid the sun. Unfortunately our equipment proved to be too weak in comparison to the great might of tarpon, gilthead, tuna and barracuda. However we managed to catch many wonderful fish which I hadn't known they existed.

Our fishermen's honour was saved on the Pacific in the Colba National Park region, which is one of the biggest marine parks in the world. We caught a beautiful yellow tuna there and while towing it we experienced immense pleasure. When we released the fish we had caught, the natives were deeply surprised as they were not able to understand the point - why catch a fish if you don't eat it? As it usually happens every journey, we experienced some unplanned adventures. At the very beginning I was bitten in the foot by a spider in the tropical forest. Having been treated by a local shaman, the natives said that I should survive. What is more, while we were staying on Bocas del Toro near the Costa Rica border, a short circuit caused a fire in our room.

The pinnacle of the unwanted adventures was the arrest in Istanbul of our plane flying from Bogota. As it turned out later, it was suspected that some passengers might have been smuggling drugs which apparently is a common issue.

Despite such misadventures, we will soon return to the Caribbean. We left our tarpons there.

WOMEN AND SUSTAINABLE HUNTING

The international conference for women WaSH was held for the first time in november 2012 in Bratislava by Hunting Women's Club in Slovakia and the future WG Artemis CIC. The second edition of WaSH took place in the Czech Republic at the Bechyne Castle, the third in Holland, Waageningenn. The fourth conference was held in Finland, Ilomantsi. More than 70 huntresses from all over the world gathered to meet. In 2019 the fifth conference took place in Poland, Bydgoszcz and also attracted a large group of women who hunt from various countries.

During a three day event, whose main organiser was the Polish Hunting Association, CIC - International Council for Game and Wildlife Conservation and the Polish Huntresses' Club of the Polish Hunting Association, more than 60 huntresses from 8 countries participated in the event. The countries included: Finland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Russia, Holland, Ukraine and of course Poland.

The conference serves as a forum for exchanging knowledge and an event which gathers huntresses. It is worth mentioning that women's participation in hunting associations in many countries is constantly growing. In Finland alone there are currently more than 22000 women who hunt, and in Poland the number of huntresses increases day by day and has exceeded 4000.

The meeting was not only an opportunity to hear various lectures focusing on hunting subjects, but also to form new connections and exchange own experiences. During the conference current hunting issues were discussed. The participants debated on such topics as the image of hunting in social media. The questions of huntresses' involvement in the development of culture conveying the hunting values to the society were also discussed. One of the partners supporting the event was Tagart brand, which was pleased to present clothes collection for the upcoming season dedicated to hunting women. We are delighted by the fact Tagart brand had the opportunity to take part in such an important event for hunting in Europe as a partner. See you at WaSH Russia 2020.

Modal - fabric made of a cellulose fiber obtained from wood. Modal is very delicate in touch. When it is skilfully washed, it does not require ironing. Thanks to smooth and delicate structure of fiber, it efficiently extracts the moisture from the surface of the skin to the outside. Beech fiber absorbs 50% more moisture than cotton, so it keeps the skin relatively dry and protects our body from exposure to cold or overheating.

In comparison to cotton, Modal is much more pleasant to wear, giving a feeling of freshness while wearing it. „Beech“ fabric in comparison to synthetic thermoactive clothing, perfectly extracts the moisture from the surface of the skin, due to special fiber structure. Moisture extracting is as quick and smooth as in the case of synthetic clothing. Clothes made of modal are also much more pleasant to wear and maintain freshness for longer than synthetic clothes, which affects the comfort of use.

MERINO WOOL

GREENLAND MERINO

Greenland is underwear made from soft and fine wool procured from merino breed sheep, which features fibres that are three times thinner than a human hair. This fine raw material for Greenland underwear is supplied by a renowned Swiss company Schoeller, which guarantees high thermal parameters and high quality. The underwear featured a two layered structure where the functional inner fibres extract moisture from the surface of the skin to the woolen layer.

An elaborate system of channels in the woolen outer layer allows for absorbing a substantial amount of moisture (up to 35% of own mass), without the unpleasant feeling of dampness, at the same time retaining high thermal parameters. Thanks to additional silver ion finish the growth of bacteria is limited. The underwear will ideally prove itself in winter, when it efficiently protects from chill, as well as in summer, when it protects the body against overheating.

The "body mapping" system has been implemented in the underwear - a special zone structure with appropriately chosen types of weave in areas which require efficient extraction of moisture, increased elasticity, and mechanical durability. High elasticity and reduced number of seams improve the comfort of use, freedom of movement and limit the possibility of grazing and skin irritation.

Men sizes: S-3XL. Ladies sizes: S-XL.
